

FIFA World Cup final: Where to watch in Orlando

2026-07-16

After a month and a half, more than 100 soccer matches across 16 cities and 48 teams, only two countries are left to face off in the FIFA World Cup final on Sunday.

Spain will play in the World Cup final for the first time since 2010, facing off against defending World Cup champions Argentina at New York/New Jersey Stadium (MetLife Stadium) starting at 3 p.m. July 19.

While tickets to the final match cost thousands of dollars, many Orlando-area venues are hosting watch parties and drink specials to celebrate the culmination of the global soccer competition.

From the Orlando Soccer Celebration to countless bars and pubs, here are places in Central Florida to see the World Cup final.

Orlando Soccer Celebration

This festival-style experience transforms Pointe Orlando into the “ultimate soccer destination” as a hub for all World Cup matches. Sports & Social Orlando is the hub for live viewing on the venue’s second floor with special event dates using the first-floor main stage and video screen on July 19. The event is free and open to the public. More information: orlandocitysc.com
